Mail order retailers must at least register the brand names for their shipping packages (usually the name of the mail order company).

If you want to place products on the market without a brand name (e.g. neutral shipping packaging), enter the company name again (do not enter: no name or no brand etc.).

If a product has an umbrella brand and additional sub-brands, the indication of the umbrella brand is sufficient. Sub-brands can also be registered. If a market withdrawal has been determined for individual/multiple brand names, you can enter the market withdrawal date under "Brand valid until".

HOW TO REGISTRATE IN THE PACKAGING REGISTER – LUCID

Country

The business address of your company is definitive in establishing the country in which your registered office is located. If you do not have a separate business address, your place of residence is the determining factor. If there are several registered offices or places of residence, the head office is decisive.

Type of taxpayer reference number

As a basic principle, companies/entrepreneurs receive a taxpayer reference number which for example must be stated in the tax return and on invoices. Please select the type of taxpayer reference number relating to your country. Small traders receive after the trade notification from the finance authority a taxpayer reference number, which business-related taxpayer reference number is different from your personal taxpayer reference number.

The taxpayer reference number is communicated by post by the tax office to all traders resident in Germany. So if your company has its head office in Germany, select "Tax number" here.

If your company's head office is not in Germany, then please select the relevant national equivalent from the list. Should your type of tax number not be on the list, you have the option of selecting "other" and entering your type of tax number as free text.

European tax number, VAT number

In general, someone requests and obtains a VAT number in Germany if they want to supply goods to the companies in the rest of the EU without the addition of VAT (Reverse-Charge procedure).

Have you requested and received a VAT number for your company, in Germany referred to as a Umsatzsteuer-Identifikationsnummer (USt-IdNr.)? If so please enter this here without blank after the country code. In Germany it is composed of the country code DE and nine numbers (Example: DE123456789).

In other European countries the VAT number is called for example VAT No (Ireland), P.IVA (Italy) or OB Number (Netherlands).

Small traders who do not state the VAT number on their invoices (small business regulation), have no VAT number. If you have no VAT number, click on the button "I have no VAT number" and you will be automatically forwarded to the place for inputting your taxpayer reference number.

Type of national identification number

Please select the type of national identification number for your company.

Before commencing a commercial activity, it is generally necessary to provide notification of or register your company. In the process, a national identification number is assigned to your company as a basic principle. This may for example be the commercial register number or another identification number allocated to your company which makes your company uniquely identifiable.

For most large German companies, the '(DE) commercial register number' is applicable here, if they are entered into the commercial register. Small traders who have only provided notification of their trade but are not entered on any register should please select '(DE) trade notification'.

In many countries, decentralised or centralised company registers are kept. Please enter the identification number assigned to your company. In some countries the identification number is also used for tax purposes.

If you have a type of identification number that is not listed, please select 'other'. After this you can enter the designation of your identification number yourself (Example: cooperative registration number, society registration number etc.).

STEP 6:

Click on Add brand names and enter your brand name(s) . See also explanations

Now only three steps are needed before you can send your application of registration. Please enter your registration data in the input fields.

4 5 6 7 8

Step 6: request of the brand names

Below, please enter the brand names under which you place packaging subject to system participation requirement on the market. The brand names, together with the registration date and if applicable the date of the market exit, will be published in the public register due to legal obligation. The registration of the brand names can be done manually or via XML upload. If you use the XML upload, your manually stored data will be overwritten. Select here whether you want to proceed manually ("Add brand name") or with the XML Upload ("XML import").

Add brand name + XML import +

Brand name*	Brand name expiry (optional)
No items to display

Please enter the designations of the brand names under which you place packaging subject to system participation requirements on the market.

Requirements under the VerpackG (Packaging Act):
You must list the brand names under which you place packaging subject to system participation on the German market for the first time (e.g., producers, mail order businesses, importers). Where a product has a parent brand and secondary brands (so-called sub-brands), only the parent brand needs to be provided.
Example: The company Happybiscuits sells shortbread biscuits under the name "Shorties" and oatmeal biscuits under the name "Oaties". The parent brand "Happybiscuits" always appears on the packaging. In this case, only the brand "Happybiscuits" needs to be registered.

Registration not required:

- Type designations, article specifications, model descriptions (e.g., headphones A10, headphones A15).
- Package volumes (e.g., 50 g, 100 g).
- Product descriptions (e.g., headphones, lubricant).

Unbranded packaging:
If you place unbranded packaging on the market, please enter your company name under "brand name" (not: "no name", "no brand", etc.).

Mail order businesses:
The issue of unbranded packaging frequently affects establishments such as mail order businesses that only register for shipment packaging. Mail order companies must register their brand name in the LUCID packaging register if their brand name is indicated on the shipment packaging. Not to be registered are the brand name or any other name of the producer of the packaging material used. Where shipment packaging does not bear any brand name, the name of the mail order business (company name, where applicable, or name of the proprietor) may be listed.

An online retailer is often the initial distributor (producer within the meaning of the VerpackG (Packaging Act) for shipment packaging only. This is the case where the following conditions apply:

- It sells the products of other producers that have assumed the respective producer responsibility (these producers are initial distributors and therefore are required to register the relevant brand names).
- It does not import any goods itself.

If the conditions set out above are met, then the mail order business does not need to include the brand names of the other producers in its own registration. For more information about maintaining the brand names, see the FAQs.

Brand change:
Where there are plans to remove one or more brand name(s) from the market, you can enter the market exit date under "brand name expiry". If new brands are added, these can be entered at any time under update brand names.

Brand deletion:
If you wish to delete a brand name after the completion of the registration, you can do so after logging into the packaging register LUCID under "Brand names". There you will find more information about the procedure. Deleted brand names will be visible in the public register for a period of three years beginning with the end of the year of deletion.

If you use the XML upload function, please note that the old entries are overwritten when you upload a new file. This is also the case if you initially enter brand names manually, and then subsequently upload an XML brand name list.

You can filter the "Brand name" and "Brand name expiry" fields in ascending or descending order. To do this, please click on the header line. Small arrows will appear which you can use to arrange brand names upwards or downwards. You can also use the filter symbol to filter in the "Brand name" field.

Information

The Packaging Act obliges you to indicate the brand names of the products. If a product has an umbrella brand and additional sub-brands, the indication of the umbrella brand is sufficient. Sub-brands can also be registered to supply a complete list. If a market withdrawal for one or more brand names is certain, you can enter the market withdrawal date under "Brand name expiry".

Through the end of the market withdrawal date you can adjust this date.
